1. PRESIDENT´S MESSAGE

After a rigorous process of evaluation by the Brazil´s Ministry of Education (MEC), the OPET Educational Group, which was accredited as a College in 1999, reached in December 2017 the Accreditation that allows to begin the journey to became an University.

The prerogative grants to the institution of Paraná, in addition to recognition in the market for the excellence of teaching and the quality of the teaching staff, more autonomy in its actions, combining education, citizenship and sustainability.

Prof. José Antonio Karam

The differentials of UniOpet point to the actuality of innovative pedagogical projects, with pioneering programs in the partnership between the College and the market.

In addition, the focus of the teaching and learning process are the active methodologies focused on the desire of competences also in professional practices and values that cherish the continued maintenance of life on Earth.

As a signatory to PRME, the UniOpet is aligned with the challenges and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals for 2030.
Management education and the sustainable development goals: transforming education to act responsibly and find opportunities.

This important statement reflects the aspirations of the Opet Educational Group and the Opet College when it comes to sustainability.

The new global goals result from a process that has been involving governments, business, civil society, higher education and citizens.

The Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME), an initiative by the United Nations Global Compact, is a collaborative, collegial learning community that thrives on sharing good practices to inspire and champion responsible management education, research and thought leadership globally.

These Principles was adopted by UniOpet in March 2016 because we believe that education can change minds and minds change the World. Higher Education Institutions have the ability to influence students with responsible and sustainable business practices. This influence shapes tomorrow’s business leaders and society.

Our desire is to strengthen and empower future business professionals, adding value to business and modern society, give to future business leaders the tools to recognize and maximize sustainable opportunities.

We believe that we can Create a paradigm for teaching, learning and understanding sustainability as core to the business model, connecting with a network of stakeholders reaching beyond the business sphere, into signatories and supporting organisations.

Anyway, we believe that:

"WHAT IS LEARNED TODAY, TRANSFORMS TOMORROW"!
By becoming a signatory of PRME in March 2016, the Opet Group became part of a group of Higher Education Institutions that has acted in the sense of dealing with the formation of professional managers committed to the sustainability of the planet.

After joining the PRME and in view of the Charter of Commitment of our Institution, the Multidisciplinary Knowledge Center was created, which was in charge of creating the line of research on Sustainable Universities.

Thus, the Opet Educational Group became part of a group of Brazilian institutions that exchange experiences and indicators of implementation of practices that lead to the strengthening of organizations in relation to sustainability.

The first scientific publication was an article titled "Sustainable Brazilian Universities: Composition of Characteristics, Indicators and Performance Parameters", presented at the Symposium on Sustainability in University Campuses (SSC-2017), organized by the University of São Paulo, Brazil, 17th-19th September 2017, with support of Manchester Metropolitan University (UK), the Research and Transfer Centre "Applications of Life Sciences" of the Hamburg University of Applied Sciences (Germany), and the Inter-University Sustainable Development Research Programme (IUSDRP).

This article will be composing a chapter of Springer Publishing's "Towards Green Campus Operations: Energy, Climate and Sustainable Development Initiatives at Universities" (ISBN 978-3-319-76885-4), to be released on June 12, 2018.

This book showcases examples of campus-based research and teaching projects, regenerative campus design, low-carbon and zero carbon buildings, waste prevention, and resilient transport, among others.

The Children's City is a special project of the School and Opet Institute and an important differential in the training of our students from Kindergarten and Primary Education - 1st to 5th year. It was founded in May 1970 by Professor Ney Lobo.

To speak of citizenship is to speak of equality of opportunity among people, of the awareness that it is possible to transform and coexist with differences and that individual well-being passes through collective well-being. The construction of citizenship, solidarity and peace, requires profound changes of consciousness and the change of paradigms, from an ethical-political perspective. These changes occur simultaneously in people and in the context in which they are inserted.

The Children's City came about, with the intention of transforming society through education, being a place where children would have the constant experience of human values and citizenship, in order to contribute significantly to their lives, their families and community, and thus reflecting on behavioral changes and paradigms, glimpsing the transformation of their local reality. It is an important differential in the training of students in Early Childhood Education and Elementary School Opet and also attends children of Municipal Schools and Civil Society Organizations that welcome children in situation of social vulnerability.

The Children's City is composed of four poles:

Environmental pole: Garden, forest and rural space
Political pole: City Hall, City Council and Forum.
Service pole: Health office, shopping center and bank
Cultural center: Cyber, library, toy library, family home and cultural center.

The streets with signs and traffic lights allow students to take the first steps of Citizenship.

Playing with big people, children are actually experimenting with important concepts of citizenship in practice. In this way, they recognize their role within a society, so that in the future they act and contribute as responsible, conscious and critical citizens.
The Citizenship Moment Program

This project aims to provide moments of reflection on themes related to social, health, environment, culture, citizenship, education and professionalism, not only to the school community, but also to the entire Society of Curitiba and Metropolitan Region.

There are debates, talks and lectures. The Citizenship Moment is also present in Academic Weeks promoted by Opet College and Conversation Table promoted by Opet College.

Some issues we have already addressed:

- Moral and Sexual Harassment in the Workplace;
- The humanitarian crisis of refugees in the World;
- Ethics and Citizenship;
- Social Business for Startups;
- Corporate Volunteering;
- Sustainability;
- The Labor Market in the Third Sector.

That’s What Matters!
The Opet Institute encourages social transformation through volunteering. Voluntary social action is considered by scholars of the different areas of knowledge as a new space for social transformation.

At present, solidarity actions and volunteering are being disseminated and are in a moment of appreciation, since for a long time they were forgotten by some areas and valued by others.

The main voluntary actions developed by the Opet Institute in 2017 were:

- Electronic Waste Campaign;
- Campaign for collection and recycling of cooking oil;
- Winter clothing campaign;
- Solidary action in Public School of Special Education;
- Campaign against breast cancer, named “Pink October”.

Throughout the month of August, 2017 the Opet Institute organized a series of activities focused on the importance of solidarity actions in various areas of society. In all, there were seven events, involving more than 100 volunteers.
